Madelaine Bullwinkel, Chez Madelaine Cooking School - Smith

Ms. Bullwinkel's cooking school is in its 26th year, in Hinsdale, Illinois. She incorporates hands-on experience with the "why" and "how to" in her award-winning contemporary kitchen. To help her students develop confidence in the basics, Madelaine interprets classic French cuisine for the home cook, emphasizes quality fresh and dried ingredients; and teaches uncomplicated recipes with clean, vigorous flavors. She has a degree in Haute Cuisine Francaise from L'Academie de Cuisine in Bethesda, Maryland. Madelaine also published a cookbook, Gourmet Preserves Chez Madelaine. In March 1998, Chez Madelaine was featured in Bon Appetit and in a "Travel to Cook" insert in Better Homes and Gardens. In October 2001 Madelaine received a Good Eating Award from The Chicago Tribune: "Good Eating honors those in the food and beverage industries who are making a difference in Chicago through their commitment, quality, passion and vision. These experts have enhanced life in Chicago with their accomplishments."

Leslie Sutphen, Financial Markets Consulting, Inc. - Mount Holyoke

Ms. Sutphen founded Financial Markets Consulting, Inc. in 1997. The firm assists firms involved in the financial derivatives industry in selecting and implementing electronic trading, risk management, and derivative trade processing systems. The Firm has done work for many major brokerage and proprietary trading firms, a major futures and options exchange, and a number of system vendors in the derivatives arena. Before founding the firm, Ms. Sutphen directed marketing of derivative clearing and risk analysis systems for Prudential Securities Incorporated. She had also held positions as an analyst for a stock option trading partnership and as a research analyst for McKinsey & Company, the management consulting firm. Ms. Sutphen holds a Masters of Management in Finance and Marketing from Northwestern University's Kellogg Graduate School of Management and an AB, magna cum laude, from Mount Holyoke College.
